COP26: World Saving Commitments or Blah, Blah, Blah?

So COP26 (The UN Climate Change Conference in Glasgow) has been and gone but what was decided?

Here are the key points you may have missed:

- 151 countries made new climate plans to slash their emissions by 2030. But many say these plans aren't ambitious enough
- However, an agreement was struck asking countries to improve these commitments by the end of 2022...

- Many world leaders arrived in private jets which many Goose Green children felt was very hypocritical

- A deal to stop burning coal worldwide was almost made but...
- In the end all countries just agreed to use less.
- Many people who had travelled from around the world could not get in, including Israel's energy minister because she was in a wheelchair

- Over 100 countries committed to making big reductions to methane
- Goose Green pupils wrote sensational, inspiring and creative postcards to tell world leaders what they think. We are awaiting their response!
